1. Purpose and reasons for subscription

(1) Backdrop and purpose for subscription

The Group runs its business centered on the four business pillars of ship, ocean development, machinery, and engineering. However, large-scale losses in overseas EPC projects in the engineering business have damaged our financial base, and we have experienced declining revenue in our existing businesses including our shipbuilding business. We recognize the necessity of recovering equity capital and securing funds, as well as for the withdrawal from unprofitable businesses and development of growth businesses. Based on this recognition, in May 2019, we formulated our “Mitsui E&S Group Business Revival Plan” (“Business Revival Plan”). Thereafter, in August 2020, we formulated our “Mid-term Business Plan 2020” (“Current Mid-term Plan”). Through this process, the Group is concentrating its business and clarifying cooperation, and in addition to creating markets through alliances, it aims to become “A company adding digital value to all machines” and transition from our traditional flow-type business model to a stock-type business model that boosts earnings over the long term.

Amid these conditions, the Group has been making an all-out effort to slim down its business scale and employee scale. During the period starting from the fiscal 2018, we have sold a total of approximately 100 billion yen in non-core businesses and assets, such as reorganizing our shipbuilding business, and made progress in slimming down our employee scale. Through the progress in the Business Revival Plan, the Group aims to capture growth opportunities and make a transition to a stable earnings structure that allows sustainable growth going forward. The Group sees the following as its growth opportunities.

Firstly, we are focusing on the shift to green technology in our marine propulsion system business and our port logistics system business. Currently, there is rapidly increasing momentum to strengthen environmental regulations*¹. To respond to these international and social demand to reduce environmental burden, we will proactively make the necessary investments. Specifically, in the marine propulsion system business, thus far the Group has led the industry in real ship introductions aimed at commercializing marine engines using natural gas with a relatively low environmental impact as a power source and expanded our lineup. Going forward, based on the strong sense of mission, as a corporate group holding a global top-class market share, to promote the early commercialization of green fuel such as ammonia, the Group is accelerating its business development investment. Furthermore, in our port logistics system business, the Group has introduced the world's first Hybrid-type Transtainer*² with a low environmental burden to the market. We will continue to promote the spread of near-zero emission types ("NZE") with a low environmental burden for which development has been completed. Additionally, to achieve zero emissions ("ZE"), we are also diligently pursuing the development of new types that use fuel cells as a power source.

Secondly, we are pursuing digital transformation ("DX") in the marine propulsion system business and the port logistics system business. In the marine propulsion system business, we are engaged in business development investment to strengthen our service system using predictive maintenance (predicting the timing of breakdowns and repairs from real-time engine data using DX technology). Furthermore, we will accelerate investments for business development in the port logistics system business in light of the progress and early practical application of remotely operated port cranes as well as automation technology of terminals, etc. By expanding and strengthening the service field in both businesses and providing stock-type digital services that link shipping organizations and port services, we will transition from our traditional flow-type business model to a stock-type business model and accelerate reforms to create a stable earnings structure.

Furthermore, in order to promote the above policies even more strongly at the Group, we are also moving forward with rebuilding of our Group organization. As stated in the "(Progress in Disclosure Items) Notification on Absorption-type Mergers (Simplified Mergers / Short-form Mergers) of Wholly Owned Subsidiaries and Change in Trade Name (Japanese only)" released on March 31, 2022, we are working to increase the speed of the Group's strategy planning and execution, to promote growth strategies, and to further streamline management. Furthermore, on April 1, 2023 (tentative), we plan to change our trade name to "Mitsui E&S Co., Ltd." (tentative). With the rebuilding of our Group organization, we are revising the meaning of the "E" and "S" included in our trade name in line with our future vision and business domains. The "E&S" in our new trade name stands for "Engineering & Services for Evolution & Sustainability." By focusing on engineering and services aimed at social evolution and sustainability, the Group is working to build a corporate stance that aims for sustainable improvement of its corporate value. Furthermore, to accelerate these initiatives, the Group has formulated its new medium-term business plan "Mid-term Business Plan 2023" ahead of schedule, without waiting for the final fiscal year of the Current Mid-Term Plan period, and released the plan on May 13, 2022.

Against this backdrop, the Group believes that it is important to raise the required funds to materialize results from the above policies it has implemented and to capture further growth opportunities while boosting equity and improving financial soundness. The Group believes that this financing will benefit its stakeholders including existing shareholders by utilizing the funds to improve its corporate value in the future.

*1: As an example, in April 2018, the International Maritime Organization has adopted the goals to improve per-shipment emissions by 40% compared to 2008 by 2030 and to reduce total greenhouse gas emissions by 50% compared to 2008 by 2050.

*2: Registered trademark of the container yard crane of PACECO®, with which the Group has a technological partnership.

(2) Reasons for selecting the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment

While considering the benefits to existing shareholders, as described in “(1) Backdrop and purpose for subscription” above, the Company believed that it is desirable to conduct business operations and investment through the long-term, steady supply of capital for strengthening of equity and improvement of financial soundness while aiming to steadily capture growth opportunities from the green transition and DX in our marine propulsion system business and port logistics system business and to implement reforms toward a transition to a stable earnings structure. We performed a comparative evaluation of various financing methods until deciding to implement the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment.

As a result, based on the characteristics of Class A Preferred Shares listed below, the Company has deemed that the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares is the best decision, which is in line with the above policy and satisfies the Company’s needs, at the current stage. Accordingly, the Company has resolved the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares.

A. Characteristics of Class A Preferred Shares

- (a) Class A Preferred Shares do not have attached put options, for which the consideration is the Company’s common shares, and they do not dilute existing shares.
- (b) By enhancing our financial soundness, we expect to maintain and control borrowing costs from financial institutions and to expand our financing capacity.
- (c) Class A Preferred Shares have attached put options, for which the consideration is cash, but the Investment Agreement provides that they can only be exercised if June 30, 2027 is reached or if certain other conditions are met, meaning we do not expect them to be exercised in the short term.
- (d) Excluding cases separately provided for by laws and regulations, Class A Preferred Shares do not grant voting rights at the general meeting of shareholders and do not affect shareholder composition.

B. Points of attention for Class A Preferred Shares (disadvantages)

- (a) A certain level of cash outflow is expected with dividend payments and redemption request for which the consideration is cash for Class A Preferred Shares.

C. Comparison of the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment and other financing methods

- (a) The issuance of the Company's common shares through public offering allows the Company to conduct large-scale financing. However, as the preparation requires a certain amount of time, and as earnings per share are simultaneously diluted significantly at the time of issuance, the direct effect on the stock price is larger.
- (b) The issuance of the Company's shares through third-party allotment allows the Company to conduct large-scale financing in a short amount of time. However, as earnings per share are simultaneously diluted significantly at the time of issuance, the direct effect on the stock price is larger. Additionally, as the party receiving the allotment will become a major shareholder with a significant number of voting rights, it could affect the Company's shareholder composition and corporate governance.
- (c) With moving strike convertible bonds with stock acquisition rights in which the conversion price is adjusted by linking to the stock price ("MSCB"), the party to which the MSCB are allotted hold the conversion rights, meaning the issuing company has no control. Moreover, because the number of conversions (dilution ratio) is undetermined until conversion is completed, it is difficult to predict the impact of dilution on earnings per share, placing the shareholders in an unstable position.
- (d) Rights offerings, financing methods using gratis allotments of stock acquisition rights, include commitment-type rights offerings in which the Company and a financial instruments business operator conclude a principal underwriting agreement, and non-commitment-type rights offerings in which the Company does not conclude a principal underwriting agreement and relies on the shareholders to decide the exercise of stock acquisition rights. There are few examples of commitment-type rights offerings being executed in Japan, and the evaluation of the structure and preparation will take considerable time. As such, commitment-type rights offerings are not an appropriate financing method for the Company at present. Furthermore, because the participation ratio of existing investors to which rights will be allotted is unclear in non-commitment-type rights offerings, it is also unclear whether sufficient funds can be raised through this method.
- (e) While funds can be raised at once through corporate bonds or borrowings, the debt incurred through the funds raised lowers our financial soundness and does not match the needs of the Company to promote a stable business strategy. On the other hand, because the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment is a capital-type financing method, it should improve our financial soundness.

(3) Reasons for selecting the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment

The Company has always discussed the state of implementation of its Business Revival Plan and Current Mid-Term Plan with the financial institutions with which it does business starting with its main financing bank and received support including commitment line agreements and continued financing. Under such circumstances, the Company received a proposal from SMBC Capital

Partners, the subsidiary of the Company's transacting bank Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation and operating partner of the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment. SMBC Capital Partners is the subsidiary of the Company's transacting financial institution and has demonstrated a deep awareness of the Company's management philosophy, business policy, and the intent of the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment to improve financial soundness, capture growth opportunities that allows sustainable growth, and to facilitate reforms to create a stable earnings structure. As such, the Company decided on the allotment to the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment.

Furthermore, in the Investment Agreement, the Company has agreed with the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment on investment in the Company and certain other items, a summary of which is provided below.

A. Conditions precedent for payment obligations

The following items represent a broad summary of the conditions precedent for the exercise of payment obligations associated with Class A Preferred Shares by the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment.

- (a) The Company's representations and warranties in the Investment Agreement must be true and accurate for the key points

- (c) At the Company, the resolutions at the ordinary general meeting of shareholders approving each agenda item associated with (i) partial amendments to the Articles of Incorporation associated with Agenda Item No. 1, (ii) Class A Preferred Shares Third-Party Allotment (favorable issuance), and (iii) Reduction of the Amount of Stated Capital, etc. (defined in Agenda Item No. 3) must be made legally and effectively, and these resolutions and procedures must be maintained without being changed or withdrawn
- (d) All the procedures required by the payment date when the Reduction of the Amount of Stated Capital, etc. takes effect are completed and there is a reasonable expectation that the Reduction of the Amount of Stated Capital, etc. will take effect on the payment date
- (e) The Company submits extraordinary reports on the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and other relevant laws and regulations
- (f) No requests, lawsuits, or procedures requesting the restriction or prohibition of the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares have been made to courts or government organizations, no decisions exist from courts or government organizations restricting or prohibiting the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares, and there is no concrete risk of such
- (g) Of concluded agreements to which the Company and/or its subsidiaries are parties, for agreements that are necessary for the Company and/or its subsidiaries to conduct their own business, neither the Company nor its subsidiaries failed to fulfil their obligations, nor can any concrete risk of defaults on obligations exist

- (h) From the day that the Investment Agreement is concluded, no events that could cause serious negative effects on the assets, management, financial status, or future forecast of the Company or its subsidiaries occurred, nor any concrete risk of these events exist
- (i) No conditions can be objectively recognized as occurring that could make the receipt or payments of Class A Preferred Shares impossible or difficult, including (i) natural disasters, war, or terrorist attacks, (ii) disconnection or malfunction of electricity, communication, or various payment clearing systems, (iii) conditions that prevent yen-based lending and borrowing transactions occurring in the Tokyo interbank market, (iv) other conditions that are not the responsibility of the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment

B. The Company's covenants items

The following items represent a broad summary of the items that the Company pledges to the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment.

- (a) Where the Company attempts to decide or implement certain items (amendments to the Articles of Incorporation provided for in Article 322, paragraph (1), item (i) of the Companies Act, the issuance of class A preferred shares of the same type as Class A Preferred Shares, the disposal of treasury shares, the acquisition of treasury shares, increase or deduction in common stock or reserves, dividends of surplus, a request to file bankruptcy proceedings, an application for delisting, changes in the business plan, etc.), it must receive the prior written agreement of the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment (however, the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment may not unreasonably refuse or delay this approval), and where formulating a new business plan, the Company must receive the approval of the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment through discussion (however, the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment must respect the rough draft of the business plan formulated by the Company and must not unreasonably refuse or delay its approval.)
- (b) Until the Company has received all of the Class A Preferred Shares according to the issuing guidelines for Class A Preferred Shares and the Investment Agreement, the Company will make every effort to ensure that financial institutions provide financial support to the Company in a way that reasonably satisfies the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment
- (c) At the end of every quarter following the payment date, assuming that the Company acquires all of the Class A Preferred Shares, the Company will create or maintain an amount of distributable funds that exceeds the amount of funds needed to be exchanged for the acquisition of Class A Preferred Shares, make every effort to secure the necessary cash, and to maintain the amount of net assets on the Group's consolidated balance sheet at the end of every quarter following the payment date at 30% or more of the net assets on the Group's consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2022

C. Restrictions on right to request redemption for which the consideration is cash

After June 30, 2027 has passed or when certain other conditions are met, the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment may exercise the right to request redemption for which the consideration is cash for Class A Preferred Shares.

D. Restrictions on exercising acquisition clause for which the consideration is cash

Until June 30, 2023, the Company cannot exercise the acquisition clause for which the consideration is cash for Class A Preferred Shares.

2. Reasonableness of issuance conditions, etc.

(1) Basis and concrete details by which the Company has deemed the issuance conditions to be reasonable

To ensure fairness in Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment, the Company requested an evaluation of the Class A Preferred Shares by PLUTUS CONSULTING Co., Ltd. (“PLUTUS CONSULTING”), a third-party evaluation organization independent from the Company and the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment, and on March 30, 2022, received the Mitsui E&S Holdings Co., Ltd. Class A Preferred Share Evaluation Report (“Class A Preferred Share Evaluation Report”). As a result of a consideration of evaluation methods for Class A Preferred Shares, PLUTUS CONSULTING selected the discounted cash flow method, a standard value calculation model. Having considered the issuing guidelines for Class A Preferred Shares and the various conditions established in the Investment Agreement, it performed an evaluation of the Class A Preferred Shares under a certain set of assumptions. In the Class A Preferred Share Evaluation Report, the value of one Class A Preferred Share is set at between 400.6 to 501 yen.

After a consideration of the above evaluation results by PLUTUS CONSULTING and earnest negotiations and discussion with the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment, the Company and the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment reached an agreement, with the details, including terms and conditions, deemed reasonable for the Company, setting the amount of payment for Class A Preferred Shares at 500 yen per share. The Company has made a comprehensive consideration, taking into account the above evaluation results by PLUTUS CONSULTING and the fact that the issuance conditions for Class A Preferred Shares are based on earnest negotiations and discussion with the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment that consider the business environment and financial status surrounding the Company as provided in “1. Purpose and reasons for subscription (1) Backdrop and purpose for subscription” above, and determined that the amount of payment for Class A Preferred Shares shall not be considered as favorable issuance, and that the price is appropriate and valid. However, there is no objective market price for Class A Preferred Shares, and evaluating class shares is sophisticated and complicated, meaning there are various possible opinions on the evaluation. As such, under the Companies Act, we cannot fully rule out the possibility that the payment amount for Class A Preferred Shares could be found to be a particularly advantageous price for the Party Receiving Class A Preferred Share Allotment. Accordingly, we believe that it is appropriate to confirm the intentions of our shareholders. Therefore, as a precautionary measure, based on Article 199, paragraph (2) of the Companies Act, we have conditioned the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares on approval with a special resolution on favorable issuance at this General Meeting of Shareholders.

- (2) Basis for deciding that the number of issued shares and the scale of share dilution is reasonable
By issuing 18,000,000 Class A Preferred Shares, the Company will raise a total of 9,000,000,000 yen. In light of the above purpose and use of funds in the issuance of Class A Preferred Shares, we deem that the number of Class A Preferred Shares being issued is reasonable.
Furthermore, Class A Preferred Shares do not grant voting rights at the general meeting of shareholders nor acquisition clause or right to request redemption for which the consideration is common shares of the Company. Therefore, we believe that the Class A Preferred Share Third-Party Allotment will not cause dilution for our existing shareholders.

The Reduction of the Amount of Stated Capital, etc. will be carried out, subject to the resolution for approval of originally proposed Agenda Item No. 1: “Partial amendments to the Articles of Incorporation (1)” as well as Agenda Item No. 2: “Issuance of class A preferred shares through third-party allotment,” and the completion of the payment in return for the third-party allotment of class A preferred shares.

In accordance with Article 452 of the Companies Act, we propose to transfer a portion of other capital surplus, which will increase as a result of a reduction in the amount of stated capital and capital reserve, to retained earnings brought forward, as follows, in order to ameliorate the deficit if the reduction in the amount of stated capital and capital reserve arises as a result of Agenda Item No. 3: “Reduction of the amount of stated capital and capital reserve.”

Item of surplus to be decreased and amount of decrease	Other capital surplus: 60,015,597,395 yen

For Agenda Item No. 5: Partial amendments to the Articles of Incorporation (2)

1. Reason for the amendments

Since the transition to a pure holding company structure in April 2018, the Company Group has been working to strengthen the Company Group's competitiveness while driving growth. As a result of progress in various strategies such as "execution of selling off assets and businesses," and "reform of business structure and pursue collaborations and partnerships with other companies" based on the "Mitsui E&S Group Business Revival Plan" launched in fiscal 2019, we have achieved certain results in the Plan, including bold implementation of various strategies under the current structure, along with further concentration on the selected few objectives.

Under such circumstance, to achieve future growth and drive profitability, we have determined it most appropriate to adopt a new structure which brings together the group management function of the Company and Mitsui E&S Machinery Co., Ltd. (hereinafter "Mitsui E&S Machinery"), which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and engaged in core business of the Company Group, to formulate and implement strategies as one at a faster speed, with a view to transform the Group's organizational structure focusing on growth areas.

Specifically, with a view to accelerate growth strategies and enhance management efficiency, the current pure holding company structure will be changed to an operating holding company structure on April 1, 2023 (tentative), whereby Mitsui E&S Machinery, which is expected to play the central role in our growth strategies, and Mitsui E&S Business Service Co., Ltd., another wholly-owned subsidiary engaged in corporate services, shall be merged by absorption-type merger into the Company (hereinafter the "Merger").

Accordingly, in order to change the trade name and business objectives of the Company, we propose to amend Article 1 (Trade name) and Article 2 (Object) of the current Articles of Incorporation of the Company, subject to the taking effect of the Merger. Moreover, if Agenda Item No. 1: "Partial amendments to the Articles of Incorporation (1)" is approved as proposed and the partial amendment of Agenda Item No. 1 takes effect, subject to the taking effect of the Merger, Article 12-5, paragraph 3 (Place of Receipt of Redemption Request) of the Articles of Incorporation amended in accordance with Agenda Item No. 1 shall be amended in line with the abovementioned amendments to Article 1 and Article 2.

1. Reason for the amendments

Accordingly, we propose to amend the Articles of Incorporation as follows.

 - b. With respect to the items about the measures for providing information contained in the reference documents for the general meeting of shareholders, etc. in electronic format, Article 16 (Measures, etc. for Providing Information in Electronic Format), paragraph 2 of proposed amendments will be established for allowing the Company to limit the scope of the items to be stated in the paper-based documents to be delivered to shareholders who requested the delivery of paper-based documents, within the scope as statutorily prescribed under the relevant Ministry of Justice Order.

 - c. Article 16 (Disclosure through Internet and Deemed Delivery of Reference Materials, etc. for General Meeting of Shareholders) of the current Articles of Incorporation will be deleted as it will become unnecessary following the introduction of the system for providing general shareholder meeting materials in electronic format.

 - d. Supplementary Provisions regarding the effect of the aforementioned establishment and deletion of provisions will be established. The Supplementary Provisions will be deleted after the effective date of the amendments.

Considering those described above, we successively selected him as a candidate for Outside Director.

[Important concurrent position outside the Company]

Honorary Advisor of Mitsui Chemicals, Inc.

[Matters concerning independence]

Mr. Toshikazu Tanaka satisfies the conditions of “The Independence Criteria” provided by Tokyo Stock Exchange, and “The Independence Criteria of Outside Directors and Corporate Auditors,” which the Company determines (hereinafter collectively referred to as “The Independence Criteria, etc.”). When this agenda item is approved, the Company intends to continue assigning him as independent Director.

There is a business connection about sales, etc. of machinery with Mitsui Chemicals, Inc., where he was an executive in the past and now is engaged as an Honorary Advisor. However, in the Term, there are no net sales of said company from the Company Group and the share of the net sales of the Company Group from said company is less than 0.1% of the total consolidated net sales of the Company for the Term. Therefore, the business connection has no importance as to influence his independence as Outside Director.

June	2021	President and Representative Director of Muromachi Co., Ltd. (to date) President and Representative Director of Muromachi Building Co., Ltd. (to date)

[The reason he was selected as a candidate for an Outside Director and overview of expected roles]

Mr. Haruyuki Nagata has been engaged in finance, risk management, internal audit and other operations at a major financial institution group for a long period, and possesses sufficient and overall experience and knowledge as an executive. Accordingly, we expect him to advise the overall management of the Company Group with a broad perspective and to oversee and supervise management of the Company from an independent position. Considering those described above, we newly selected him as a candidate for Outside Director.

[Important concurrent position outside the Company]

President and Representative Director of Muromachi Co., Ltd.

President and Representative Director of Muromachi Building Co., Ltd.

[Matters concerning independence]

Mr. Haruyuki Nagata satisfies the conditions of “The Independence Criteria” provided by Tokyo Stock Exchange, and “The Independence Criteria of Outside Directors and Corporate Auditors,” which the Company determines (hereinafter collectively referred to as “The Independence Criteria, etc.”). When this agenda item is approved, the Company intends to report him as independent Director to Tokyo Stock Exchange.

- (1) Mr. Haruyuki Nagata was an executive at Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (hereinafter the “Bank”) and its parent Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group, Inc. until April 2021. As of March 31, 2022, the Company borrows 49,380 million yen from the Bank, which holds a portion of shares of the Company. However, the Company’s degree of dependency on borrowings from the Bank and the Bank’s shareholding ratio in the Company are not remarkably high compared with other companies, while more than one year has passed since he retired from the Bank’s executive. Therefore, he is not deemed to conflict with the “The Independence Criteria, etc.,” and this connection has no importance as to influence his independence as Outside Director.

In the meantime, the Company has concluded an investment agreement with SMBCCP Investment Limited Partnership 1, which is a fund operated by its managing partner SMBC Capital Partners Co., Ltd. (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation). The Company plans to issue Class A preferred stock through a third-party allotment having said fund as the allottee, subject to the necessary approval at this Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders. In addition, the Company, based on the resolution at the Board of Directors meeting held on March 31, 2022, issued 1st stock acquisition rights with an exercise price amendment clause through a third-party allotment having SMBC Nikko Securities Inc. (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group, Inc.) as the allottee. The Company has also concluded a facility agreement (with a suspension of exercise designation clause and a target price clause) with said company with regard to the exercise of such stock acquisition rights.

- (2) Mr. Haruyuki Nagata is now an executive of Muromachi Co., Ltd. and Muromachi Building Co., Ltd. While the Company holds shares of Muromachi Co., Ltd., its shareholding ratio is 5% of the total number of issued shares. Therefore, the business connection has no importance as to influence his independence as Outside Director.

(Notes)

1. There is no special interest between each candidate and the Company.
2. The Company has entered into a Liability Limitation Agreement with Mr. Toshikazu Tanaka and Mr. Yoshio Haga that limits the amount of their liability as set forth in Article 423, paragraph (1) of the Companies Act, based on the provision of Article 427, paragraph (1) of said Act. The limit on liability for damages under the agreement is ten (10) million yen or the minimum liability amount provided by laws and regulations, whichever is higher. In addition, when this agenda item is approved, the Company intends to continue said agreement that has been entered with both of them, and newly enter into the equivalent agreement with Mr. Haruyuki Nagata.
3. The Company has entered into a directors and officers liability insurance agreement provided for in Article 430-3, paragraph (1) of the Companies Act with an insurance company. The insurance agreement covers damages to be borne by the insured that may arise when they assume liability for the execution of their duties or receives a claim related to the pursuit of such liability. If each of the candidates is reappointed or selected, they will be insured under the insurance agreement. During their terms of office, said insurance agreement is to be renewed.

<For reference 1> Policy on Designation of the Company’s Executives, etc.

In electing candidates for Directors or Corporate Auditors, the Company had established a voluntary advisory committee on personnel affairs to the President. However, the Company newly established a voluntary Nomination Committee (an advisory body to the Board of Directors) on April 1, 2022 as a replacement for the previous advisory committee on personnel affairs, in order to strengthen independence, objectivity and accountability of the function of the Board of Directors concerning the nomination of management executives and Directors. The proposal for electing seven candidates for Directors in Agenda Item No. 7 has been submitted for deliberation at the Board of Directors, following the procedure for confirmation by the previous advisory committee on personnel affairs.

The Nomination Committee, at the request of the Board of Directors, deliberates and reports on the selection criteria for Directors and proposed candidates. The Committee also confirms whether candidates for Corporate Auditors satisfy the conditions provided by the Board of Corporate Auditors. After the reports and confirmation described above, the President will submit a proposal for electing candidates for Directors to the Board of Directors and/or the President will submit a proposal for electing candidates for Corporate Auditors with prior consent of the Board of Corporate Auditors. The Committee consists of four members in total: two independent Outside Directors appointed by the Board of Directors, the President, and one Director, and is chaired by one independent Outside Director designated by the Board of Directors.

<For reference 2> Independence of Outside Directors and Outside Corporate Auditors
